COLD STORAGE BIRD FOOD.

About this time in our suburban parks men can be seen with long, thin, light ladders, reaching up in the branches beyond the possible reach of tramps or mischievous boys. A pound of sow-belly side—salt fat pork—is wired to a tree limb. This is repeated hundreds of times in scattered trees. The plan is not alone the mercy of saving the birds and squirrels against the sure starvation of long sleety snows, but it is also intended to act upon their home loving instincts and thus try to woo them from flying away to far-off countries.

RESCUE THAT IS EASY.

In this great hog-killing season all over this land there is many a scrap of pork that is thrown away and flesh that might easily be cleansed and salted and saved as winter bait for "The Birds of America." Our Audubon named them. It will please good souls when winter's wind is howling to know they have saved many sweet little feathered angels from oh! such severe suffering and starvation.

IN AND FOR THE STOCKING.

Kitty Marlon, a London suffragette, went to jail rather than pay a fine of $125. Maybe Kitty had Christmas presents to buy.

FAMINE LONGEVITY.

A local newspaper prints a paragraph about a reception given by a Bronx couple for their daughter on her typographically calculated 188th birthday. How old were the parents?

MEASURING HIS SPEED.

Ralph Henry Barbour has hit on a new way of estimating the income of a millionaire in the making. He says of such a hero: "His income was half way between a Mercedes limousine and a steam yacht."

ART AFTER McANENY.

Borough President McAneny's campaign against sidewalk encroachments has wrought many changes, but none has resulted in quite so curious an entrance way as that now left for the servants of the Fifth avenue home of Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr. Before the western sidewalk of Fifth avenue was widened a steep but fairly wide flight of steps led from the avenue down to the basement floor of the house. Now this is reduced to a passage that does not seem to be more than eighteen inches wide, and the opening is protected by an unpainted wooden railing that wouldn't be dignified in a barnyard.

THE DOCTOR'S ORDERS.

The oldest known prescription in the world is in the Metropolitan Museum of Art. It consists of a piece of stone, three by four inches in size, and probably was written 3,500 years ago in Egypt. The prescription takes up both faces of the stone and is written in the old cursive characters, the compound being a remedy that was to be used for a fumigation.

SULZER'S CHANCES.

The betting odds all favor Sulzer winning the race to Albany ahead of the suffragettes.

STRONGEST DRINK ARMENIAN.

Toot is made by putting ripe mulberries in barrels with enough water to cover them, and stirring two or three times a day. After fermentation it is boiled and then put through a still. Toot is an Armenian drink twice as strong as bar whisky. It will take the skin off a man's throat as he swallows it and bring tears to an alligator's eyes.

GERMS WASHED AWAY.

This thing of condemning and destroying perfectly good live oysters is a shame. If those same oysters were sunk for a week or so in freshest sea water all typhoid germs would be washed or eaten away.

Pa Knew.

The Modern Way.

"When is the belle going to marry the duke?"
"I don't know."
"I hear she is impatient to have it over."
"So that the divorce proceedings may begin?"

Something Like That.

Wasn't So Sure.

The Reason.

Not of the Smart Set.
